OUR PREVIOUS EDITIONS

The inaugural edition of the MNLUA Client Counselling Competition in 2023 set a remarkable precedent by focusing on developing participants' skills in client interactions, legal counseling, and solution-oriented thinking. It attracted law students nationwide, with 16 teams participating in real-world problem-solving and fostering an understanding of professional ethics. The event was lauded for its realistic scenarios and engaging rounds judged by experienced legal professionals.

Building on the success of its predecessor, the second edition in 2024 expanded its scope with more challenging and dynamic problem statements. It showcased heightened competition, with 40+ participating teams displaying exceptional analytical and interpersonal skills. Esteemed judges from various legal domains added gravitas to the event, making it a learning and networking platform for budding legal professionals.

Process of Competition:

- The competition simulates a law office consultation in which two participants (Counsel 1 and 2) deal with a client. The participants are given a brief written memorandum that identifies the client's problem prior to interviews. The participant team conducts an interview with a dummy client and the judge evaluates the performance.
- The topic of client counselling shall be provided 24 hours prior to the competition and the client will be provided on the spot.
- During the counselling period, participants are expected to elicit the relevant information from the client, explore with the client his or her preferred outcome, outline the nature of the problem, and suggest to the client to resolve the issue.
- The participants will be evaluated by a panel of judges considering the specific criteria based on listening to clients, questioning, planning and analytical skills of a lawyer.
- During post-counselling and consultation, judges can ask the participants questions for further clarification.
- Team members are free to decide the work distribution, but both participants must consult with the client as a team. It will be the full discretion of the Organizing Committee to select and allot the clients.

Theme:

The theme for all the rounds shall be based on any or the entire spectrum of laws including:

- Labour Law
- Cyber Law
- Constitutional Law
- Contract Law
- Company Law

- Transfer of property law

Along with other codified and un-codified laws relevant to the theme.

Four Rounds of the Competition:

Name of the Round	Number of Team	Time Alloted

Semi Final	4	40 Min
Finals	2	50 Min

The cap can be extended if the Organizing Committee finds it suitable. However, the number of teams in other rounds other than the preliminary rounds will remain the same.

The Consultation Period (Interview Period):

The first 20 minutes in the Preliminary Round and 25 minutes in Quarter-Final, 30 minutes in Semi-Final round and 40 minutes in Final Round are devoted to consultation with the client during which lawyers are expected to elicit the relevant information, outline the problem and propose a solution or other means of resolving the problem.

Post Consultation Period (Post Interview Period):

The remaining time from the total time as specified above will be for the post- Consultation period i.e. the last 10 minutes in all the respective rounds are devoted to post-consultation. During the post-consultation period, the students may either talk to each other loudly enough to be overheard by the judges, dictate a file memorandum on the interview, or both. The concept behind the post-consultation period is to summarize the interview, indicate the scope of the legal work to be undertaken, and state the legal issues that should be researched. An explanation of the position or attitude taken by the client students may be useful. Judges may question the teams during the post-consultation period.
